

Spillette, Cook In Race For Wardenship

The opening of county council on Tuesday will see determined bids for the wardenship and county commissioners' office by North York men. No matter who wins, the warden will be from North York. Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette of Newmarket and Reeve A. A. Cook of Aurora are the only two contestants.

Seeking one of the two county commissioner seats is Reeve Jack Rye of East Gwillimbury, while a possible candidate is Reeve Ralph Corner of Georgina township. The other certain candidate is Reeve Oliver Crookford of Scarborough. Two other possible entries are Reeve Thomas Carter of Long Branch and Deputy-Reeve J. L. Maude of Mimico.

The race for the wardenship is expected to be a close one, although Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette is given a slight edge over Reeve Cook in preliminary polls. Included in the business before council are two projects of immediate interest to North York. They are the development of the Eildon Hall property west of Jackson's Pt. on Lake Simcoe as a public park, and the construction of new wings for and renovation of the York County Home for the Aged at Eagle and Yonge St.

Plans for the latter were discussed two years ago by a committee chaired by Deputy-Reeve Spillette. Estimated cost of the project was around $1 million. At that time, further consideration of the undertaking was delayed because of Toronto's amalgamation proposals.

County council approved last year the purchase of the Eildon Hall park but left its development up to this year's council. It was a contentious issue at the time.

New year babies came late in Newmarket this year and there was a very unusual interval in the maternity ward at York County hospital until the fourth new day in 1952. Birth statistics at the hospital in 1951 showed a large increase stacking up records with daily births at the hospital but when the new year came nature decided to take a rest. The first birth in the new year was at two o'clock last Friday afternoon, January 4, when a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Groves, 93 Main St., Newmarket. Mrs. Groves is pictured above with her daughter. The second was a boy for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Eves, Newmarket, at 6.05 p.m.

Optimists Will Start New Program For Gymnasium Athletics

The Newmarket Optimist club decided to inaugurate a new athletic program at a dinner meeting held on Tuesday night. The new program will concentrate on athletics in the gymnasium, taking in boys in the 10 to 14 age group. Instruction will be given by Optimist club members in basketball, gymnastics, volleyball in hopes that the program will benefit boys who do not play hockey.

The Newmarket high school gymnasium will be used every Thursday night and boys from 10 to 14, interested in gym sports, are asked to attend a meeting at the high school gymnasium at 7 p.m. next Thursday night. Among the instructors will be Fred Speer, Art Hurst, Ken Stephens, Nick Styke and Joe Dales.

Rev. M. J. Aiken, minister at Trinity United church, was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting Monday night. He told of some of his experiences in human relationships as a minister and as a sergeant in the first world war.

Mr. Aiken's theme emphasized the need for Christian principles in service work. He said that there have been many service

FOR YEARS OF SERVICE

Bowser, Birrell, Receive Presentations

The old 1951 Newmarket council bowed out at a meeting at 7.30 in the council chambers Monday night, before the inaugural meeting of the 1952 council. Presentations were made to the two retiring councillors, Frank Bowser and Tom Birrell, who have been replaced by Charles E. Boyd and Mrs. V. R. MacNaughton.

Councillor Frank Bowser, who has served on council for a dozen years, was presented with a pen and pencil set by the mayor on behalf of the citizens of town.

The mayor said that Mr. Bowser's personality would be missed in council and made amusing reference to his habitual pleas for a "point of order" during times of turmoil in council procedure and his insistence that the number of each new by-law be pronounced in a loud but dignified manner at every meeting.

Reeve Arthur D. Evans recalled that when Mr. Bowser first came into council he spared nothing to find out where every cent of town money was being spent. "I know you have always had the interest of town first and maybe this time next year you will be back wanting to know the number of every by-law," said Mr. Evans.

With obvious signs of emotion, Mr. Bowser said he was deeply touched by the occasion and expressed thanks for the presentation.

Tribute was paid to Mr. Birrell's interest in the town and the service he had given in five years on council. Members of council said that he and Mr. Bowser were alike in that they spent much of their time on town work and were both conscientious municipal servants.

Mr. Birrell said that the future of Newmarket depends on housing, more railway sidings and industrial sites and a sound administration. "I think you have a good board before you for 1952 and that it will handle affairs well. I think that before too long, we will see a town of over 10,000 in population," he said.

Farm Groups Annuals

Organized 30 years ago, the York County Jersey Club has completed arrangements to hold its annual meeting in the board room of the Department of Agriculture at Newmarket on Monday, Jan. 14, commencing at 10.30 a.m., with a door prize draw for those present on time.

Mr. James Bremner, secretary of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club, who a few months ago attended the World Conference of Jersey Breeders on Jersey Island, will be the guest speaker.

The business sessions of the morning will be followed by a free lunch at noon. The afternoon program, in addition to Mr. Bremner's address, will feature group discussions on plans for the coming year.

President Hugh Sheardown of Schomberg hopes that everyone interested in either grade or pure bred Jerseys will be on hand for the day.

Holstein Club Annual Meeting
At a recent director's meeting held in the agricultural rooms at Newmarket, plans were made for the annual meeting of the York County Holstein Club to be held in the Masonic hall, Richmond Hill, on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 10.30. Many of the reports and presentations will be made at the morning session, which will commence with a draw for the door prize for those present on time.

Arrangements have been made to serve a free lunch in the hall at noon. Balloting for directors will open the afternoon session, featuring an address by Mr. Thos. Dickinson, manager of the Ottawa Dairy Farm, where a very large dairy herd is maintained. Visitors to this farm have been amazed at the unorthodox feeding and management methods practised, not the least his early cut grass silage which furnishes "winter pasture" for the herd of over 200 cows which include most of the dairy breeds.

Crop Improvement Annual
The York County Crop Improvement Association annual meeting will be held in the parish hall at Newmarket on Thursday, Jan. 17, when it is expected last year's record attendance of almost 300 will be equalled. The directors have arranged a varied and interesting program. For years this organization has had the unique reputation of starting sharp at 10.30, no matter who was there, and they have some valuable door prizes for newcomers. Following a short business session, there will be a panel discussion in the forenoon on grass silage by a group of York County farmers who have experience in making and feeding this type of ensilage.

At noon, a free lunch will be served. Two guest speakers will provide the material for more discussion in the afternoon program.

Firemen Open Campaign For New Uniforms

Members of the Newmarket Fire Brigade have undertaken a campaign for new uniforms. It has been 15 years since the brigade was completely outfitted and many members joining since are not uniformed. The brigade undertakes many ushering jobs at the arena and town hall as a public service, as well as entering town parades.

There is an additional incentive for new uniforms: the ceremonies anticipated for the opening of the new fire hall when it is built. The brigade will welcome all contributions from the public for its uniform fund and is planning fund-raising activities.

The following were put in office: chief, James Coltham; first lieutenant, John Gibson; second lieutenant, Bill Dunn; third lieutenant, Robert Peters; treas., Milt. Cook; sec., J. A. Curtis; truck captain, Seneca Cook; auditors, Jos. Peat and Harry Glen; stewards, Lyle Bond, Art Ainsley, Frank Prest; advertising committee, Charles Simmons and Fred Dillman; sick committee, J. Coltham and J. A. Curtis.

Anyone interested in contributing to the uniform fund is asked to contact Chief Coltham or Secretary Curtis.

TRINITY LADIES HOLD BANQUET FOR THE BUSY BEAVERS

The women of Trinity United church held a banquet at the church last night for the Busy Beavers, a group of young boys under the leadership of Mr. Harold Tite, Bolton Ave., who repaired nearly 200 toys before Christmas. The toys went to children in hospitals and for the Newmarket Lions club Christmas baskets.

Each child at the Orange Home, north of Richmond Hill, received three toys from the Busy Beavers. Over 125 children who received presents from the Lions club had two toys from the group and six more Newmarket children received toys on Christmas Eve. Twenty went to children in York County hospital and children received gifts at the Ontario Hospital, Aurora.

The Beavers have also been asked to attend a banquet at the Orange Home. Mr. Tite expressed thanks for financial assistance from the Lions club, members of Trinity United church and Newmarket citizens for donations of old toys. The ladies of Trinity church dressed 61 dolls which the boys repaired before Christmas.

INSTALL OFFICERS AT TRINITY W.A.

There was a splendid attendance at the Women's Association meeting of Trinity United church, Newmarket, on Thursday, Jan. 3. Mrs. M. B. Seldon, president, was in the chair.

Mrs. Elton Armstrong was guest speaker. In her capable manner, Mrs. Armstrong gave a most interesting talk on "Peace." After the brief business session, the meeting was closed with the benediction.

Rev. M. J. Aiken Speaks At Inaugural Meeting Of Newmarket Council

Rev. M. J. Aiken spoke to the Newmarket council at its inaugural meeting Monday night when members of the new council were sworn in by the town clerk, Wesley Brooks. Two new members, Mrs. V. R. MacNaughton and Charles Boyd took the oath of office.

It has been customary at the inaugural meeting every year to have one of the ministers in town speak before council and lead the members in a prayer. Mr. Aiken told councillors that while they were not directly responsible for the morals of the town, they were able to have an influence in co-operation with churches.

He told of one experience where he requested assistance about a moral issue in a community. "I was told at a meeting of a certain town council that council was not responsible for the morals of the town. But the next morning action was taken by members of the council which corrected the situation," he said.

Town officials, including Fred Thompson and William Young of the hydro commission, Chief Constable Byron Burbridge, also managers of Newmarket banks, wished council a successful year. Several appointments were made as council's representatives on various boards and commissions in town. For the arena commission, council appointed J. O. Dales and Charles VanZant; recreation commission, Charles Boyd and Rudy Renzius; York County Health Unit board representative, Reeve Arthur D. Evans; York County hospital board director, Rudy Renzius; Newmarket library board, Lou Bovair, Arthur D. Evans and Jack Struthers.

James Coltham was re-appointed fire chief with John Gibson, William Dunne and Robt. Peters as first, second and third engineers. Special viewers are A. F. Johns, Robert Howlett and Cecil Wray for three years.

The Holland Landing Home and School Association passed a resolution Monday night asking that the East Gwillimbury council take steps to join the York County Health Unit. The resolution was passed following an address by Dr. Robert M. King, director of the Unit.

PLOW CHAMPIONS ON WAY TO EUROPE FOR TOUR ABROAD

The two young champion plowmen from York County who won the Ezzo Overseas Trip at the International Plowing Match at Woodstock last fall, are aboard the Queen Mary in mid-Atlantic. Norman Tyndal of Richmond Hill, winner of the tractor championship, and Eugene Timbers of Milliken, the champion horse plowman, still in his teens, were banqueted at the Royal York Hotel by the Imperial Oil Company last Thursday, along with their trip manager, J. A. Carroll, assistant deputy minister of agriculture, who for many years was secretary-manager of the International Match.

Norman and Eugene were interviewed on the C.B.L. farm broadcast before the party flew to New York to board the famous Queen Mary. All the York County plowing fraternity joins in wishing them bon voyage. They hope to visit seven countries and plow in two matches before flying home in mid-February.

New Hall $40,000, May Face Increased Expenditures In 1952

The new town council which held its inaugural meeting on Monday night, heard contractors' bids for a new fire hall in Newmarket. Council will probably bring forth a $40,000 fire hall debenture by-law shortly and ask for the approval of the Ontario municipal board.

While the building of a new fire hall had been approved previously by the 1951 council there will be more important decisions about expenditures made by the new council this year. The council's decisions may have a large effect on the debenture debt and town finances for some time to come.

The most significant decision will be on whether Newmarket will have a new sewage disposal plant or not. It is estimated that such a plant would cost the town about $400,000. The proposed face lifting of Main St. with new roadbed, pavement and sidewalks may be another costly item this year.

The new fire hall will be built at the site of the present building, on the west side of Main St. at the corner of Millard Ave. There had been some criticism by members of the council and the town engineer, as to the choice of the site but the firemen themselves favored the site and settled the question.

They had argued that the location was central and that it was a good place to start fire trucks on the hill in case of battery troubles. Arguments used against it pointed out traffic congestion problems and stated preference for the waterworks property at the south end of Main St. where town personnel would be on hand 24 hours a day.

Tenders from seven contractors were received Monday afternoon and read out to council by Councillor J. O. Dales, the new property committee chairman for 1952. There was some discussion on the contract bids but it was agreed to hold any decision over to the next meeting when the committee will make its recommendation on an exact debenture figure. It is expected to be around $400,000.

A letter from Dr. Berry from the department of health, was read. The letter asked whether anything had been done about a sewage disposal plant. Council has been receiving similar letters with regularity for the past six months. In the middle of last year, considerable agitation had been aimed at council from property owners north of town to Holland Landing. Their chief complaint was river pollution from sewage.

At a meeting in 1951, Mr. Gary Thompson, Holland Landing, said that he would take some serious action if council did not make a start on a disposal plant. The mayor intimated that it would be "probable" that construction would be under way by the summer of 1952.

If a decision is made favoring a new sewage disposal plant, it will mean a large boost to the town's debenture debt but it is expected that there will be many long discussions in council before a decision is made.

AT CONVENTION
W. A. Hurst, Newmarket optometrist, will be attending the Optometrical Association Congress at the King Edward Hotel on Jan. 14, 15 and 16, and his office will be closed during that period. Speakers at the congress will include Dr. Paul Broeder, Harvard, and Dr. Harold Fisher, Columbia University. Hon. Mackinnon Phillips, minister of health, will address the annual banquet.

Landing Group Asks East Gwillimbury Join County Health Unit

The Holland Landing Home and School Association passed a resolution Monday night asking that the East Gwillimbury council take steps to join the York County Health Unit. The resolution was passed following an address by Dr. Robert M. King, director of the Unit.

Present at the meeting were members of the council, representatives from several township school sections and the township Federation of Agriculture.

Following his address, Dr. King answered questions from the floor, and Reeve Jack Rye explained why the township hadn't entered the unit when it was formed. There had not been, he said, sufficient public demand to spend the extra mill on the tax rate required. He felt that the present health service was adequate and that there was always the possibility that the cost of the health unit services would increase. He asked several questions of Dr. King on these points.

Dr. King said that membership in the health unit would provide the township with complete public health service, including school nurse service, pre- and post-natal care, well-baby clinics, sanitation inspections. "Our purpose is to try and prevent disease," said Dr. King. He said that the average cost of unit health services worked out to about 60 cents per capita and that the health unit members, which number 11 of the 14 municipalities north of Steele's Ave., in North York, had agreed on the levy of one mill as their individual share of the total cost. Mr. Rye said that if the township residents were sufficiently interested in obtaining these public health services, the council would give them a sympathetic hearing. "We do not feel that we should act in this matter unless it is with the approval of all the township," he said. It was proposed that meetings be held throughout the township in an effort to find out public opinion. The council was asked if it would undertake the organization of such meetings but no definite answer was given.

The York County Health unit was organized a year and a half ago. In the Unit's area, only Whitechurch, King and East Gwillimbury are not members. Members are: Newmarket, Aurora, Georgina, Bolton, North Gwillimbury, Richmond Hill, Markham and Vaughan townships, Markham village, Woodbridge and Steepleville. Vice-president of the Home and School Ass'n, Mrs. Eileen Goodwin, was in the chair.

Oak Ridges News

A $50 reward is being offered by Bill Fuller for confidential information leading to the arrest and conviction of person or persons involved in theft of more than $1,000 worth of wearing apparel from his dry goods store on Yonge Street last week.

The loss was discovered by Mr. Fuller when he arrived at the store Friday morning, January 4. He said the window in the south door of the building was smashed and entrance had been gained by unbolting the door and forcing the button.

Taken were several pairs of men's and women's sheep-lined boots, a quantity of men's dress shoes, rubbers, seven station coats, between 50 and 60 pair of men's dress trousers, a number of jackets and coats, ladies' skirts, women's cardigans and sweaters and numerous other articles.

"It was a thorough job," said Mr. Fuller. He carried no burglary insurance.

Apparently a motor vehicle had been driven up to the entrance and the goods loaded. Tire marks were discovered by police, he stated.

Mr. Fuller established his business less than two years ago and was doing an excellent trade. Provincial police are investigating.

Mrs. Jack Blyth was one point behind Mr. Bell, with a count of 345. Share-the-wealth bingo was won by Johnny Obee at $3.15.

Farm Forum News

We are pleased to print reports of local farm forums, but they should be sent as soon as possible to ensure early publication.—Editor.

Re-assembling after the holidays, Farm Forums on January 7 discussed the question, "Do you think increased production of food and manufactured goods in all parts of the world would be a good thing or not for the Canadian farmer?"

Pine Orchard forum approved of increased production, but thought that under the present economic setup it would be impossible. The group met with Mr. and Mrs. A. Berg. The next meeting will be on Monday evening, Jan. 14, at the home of Mrs. Bertram Dike.

Kettleby North End forum held a meeting at the home of Roy Geer, with 15 present and discussion groups formed. Members wanted increased production if governments would ensure a steady market and good distribution. If such countries as India and China could produce more food and manufactured products, trade could begin. Further discussion revealed the group opinion that high prices increase production and then, in time, the surplus lowers prices. Trade is very desirable, but if impractical, perhaps Canadian surpluses could be sent as gifts to needy countries.

Next meeting of this group will be on January 14 at the home of Trevor Proctor.

Newmarket East forum met at the home of Sheldon Walker, and the next meeting will be at the home of Mr. W. Bales. The majority thought that "increased food production would help the Canadian farmer only if he were sure of a good market for his produce. This would also apply to manufactured goods."

The fear was also expressed that better fed and stronger "poor nations" might be a danger to our own civilization.

The problem of surpluses could be solved, said this group, by a committee set up by the F.A.O. to buy the surplus from one country and see that it gets to another area, or perhaps setting up a barter system with other goods which they have.

Next week: A discussion of farm credit. We would like to hear from more forums.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILSON TREWELLA

This is the thirty-first instalment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining instalments will follow weekly.

Indians

The white settlers began arriving in Upper Canada, and established themselves in the township of East Gwillimbury, to find that in the district around and above Sharon they had been preceded by a race of swarthy color—the Indian. For centuries the forefathers of these people had roamed this North American wilderness, had hunted and had kept their stealthy bivouac;
they had fought their battles and had smoked their pipes of peace.
Now, change was catching up with their way of life.

The lands of East Gwillimbury form a link in the ancient trail from Lake Ontario to the Upper Lakes, and the Indian history of this area must be written around the usage of this ancient highway. This was "no ordinary trail; it was a main thoroughfare—a trunk line of communications with distant regions definitely determined by the contours of the country traversed.
The Carrying Place possessed a permanence very different from casual paths through the forest.
It was as old as human life in America."

Huron Indians

When the white man arrived,
the Hurons were in possession;
gradually the Iroquois obtained control, then after the return of Frontenac in 1698, the Chipe-weas from the north began to encroach, and it was to these Chipe-weas that the early English settlers made their overtures.

"The Treaty of October 17, 1818, completed the surrender of the territory from Lake Ontario to Georgian Bay and was the most extensive of all. Four chiefs of the Ojibway (Chipewea) nation took part in the negotiations, viz: Musquakie, or Yellowhead, Kaqueticum, or Swamp, Manitonobe, or Male Devil."

At that time these Indians
were known as the Chippewa Tribe of Lakes Huron and Simcoe. Their chiefs were John Aisance, Yellowhead and Snake, and their total population was approximately 500. They occupied the various lands in the vicinity of Lake Simcoe. Holland River and the unsettled lands in the rear of what was termed the Home District.

Tribal Suffering

"Prior to 1830 these tribes were much demoralized from living near white settlements. They had acquired constant habits of drinking strong liquors; they were totally illiterate and they knew very little about religion.
Their hunting grounds were exhausted; the government presents had been spent for whiskey, and in debt to all traders, and unable to obtain more credit,
they were in a state bordering on starvation. Their sufferings and misery were strongly marked by emaciation and disease."

In a despatch from Sir J.
Kempt to Sir George Murray,
May 16, 1829, is found the following reference to the Indians who frequented the vicinity of Gwillimbury: "His Lordship is of the opinion that the establishment of active and zealous missionaries for the Indians at the Bay of Quinte, and for those who frequented the vicinity of Gwillimbury, near Simcoe, which his Lordship has not the means of providing, would be attended by very beneficial effects."

In the same document it is recommended that the Indians
be collected in considerable number and settled in villages, with a due portion of land for their cultivation and support.

Indian Reserve

"In the year 1830, therefore,
Lieut. Governor Sir John Colbourne collected them all on to a tract of land comprising 9,800 acres, on the north-west shore of Lake Simcoe which was known as the Coldwater and Narrows Reserve," this tract extending along the public road from Coldwater to Lake Simcoe for a distance of 14 miles.

"In the year 1836, however, these Indians, known as the Chippewa Tribe of Lake Huron and Lake Simcoe, gave a surrender (No. 48) of this reserve for purposes of sale—a year or two later these Indians were moved to other reserves and in the year 1838 they were established as follows: Chief John Aisance and his band numbering 232 at Beausoleil (Prince William Henry) Island, Chief Yellowhead and his band numbering 109 at Rama, Chief Snake (Bigwin) and his band numbering 109 at Snake Island, one of the Islands in Lake Simcoe which were allotted to him.

"A gradual movement of the Snake Island Indians to Georgina Island occurred at a later date, and in the year 1876 half of the Snake Island band had moved to Georgina Island; this continued until at the present time the entire band is located at Georgina Island." It is a matter of interest that the lands of East Gwillimbury apparently were not ceded until the "Treaty made in 1823, between His Majesty, the King, and the Chippewa Indians of Christian Island, Georgina Island, and Rama."

on Sunday, July 23, they visited Newmarket. These Indians at Newmarket numbered about 100
and were camped near the village. No drunkenness was seen in the camp, and prayer was heard each morning."

There is also an account of a Quarterly Meeting in 1822, and a camp meeting was held on Yonge Street. The ground comprised about two acres; it was filled with broad tents and about 300 Indians were present.

In July, 1826, a very important missionary meeting was held at Newmarket which was attended by Indians of the Lake Simcoe camp. Peter Jones, the famous Indian preacher, addressed them, and aroused a great deal of interest and emotion
among them.

From the earliest memories of Sharon, references have been made to the Indians who frequented the district. They were friendly, and the settlers were friendly with them. These Indians hunted and fished; they made offerings in return for kindness. Their native handicrafts were exchanged for whatever the settler had to dispose,
and on more than a few occasions, when the harvest failed, the help received from these primitive inhabitants of the land went far to alleviate the distress.

Some of these Indian families
camped on the fourth concession of East Gwillimbury near the Rogers' property, and there they carried on their trade of basket-making. Approaching the cabin of a settler, they entered without ceremony and in friendly salutation uttered a guttural sound, and seating themselves on the floor of the cabin they remained for sometime in silent immobility and finally left as quietly as they had entered.

Sharon Aid
If at the settler's cabin that for which they asked was not offered, they helped themselves, but it was always repaid. They appealed to the white man in their troubles and asked aid in their sickness. In the very early days the door of the cabin of the white man was never fastened and it was of common occurrence for the family to waken
to find half a dozen Indians sleeping on the floor. To his shame the white man took advantage of these natives and through their ignorance he exploited them.

To the credit of the Sharon settlers the Indians met with friendly help. William Penn had charged his followers that on no account might land be taken from the Indian except by legiti-mate purchase. A story still is told that at one settler's cabin
the Indian squaws called regularly. The Indian mother was strongly attracted to the young daughter of the house, and offered generously of her wares in exchange.

In early days the farm owned now by Walter Haines had been occupied by Obadiah Griffin, a Quaker. In turn, Samuel Haines, another Quaker, became the owner. Here the Indians had met with friendly kindness, and in appreciation, at one of their frequent visits, they gave an exhibition of Indian dancing.

Some more than 60 years ago
a family of Indians from Georgina Island camped in the Howard woods beside the east branch of the Holland River. A garden was cultivated, a fence had been erected around the little camp,
and they worked industrially at their trade of basket making.
The name of this Indian family was Charles, and long afterwards
the forlorn remnants of this camp might have been seen.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The Editor: In this reader's opinion, the following few lines
from your trenchant editorial,
"Helping Each Other," merit a spot in the editorial columns of your big city contemporaries -- though I'm thinking that it is unlikely they will show up there:

"Townfolk can return a good turn, however, by making an effort to understand some of the problems the farmer must contend with. The price of farm products, for example, has become something of a political football and the resultant charge and counter-charge has left many consumers with the firm belief that the farmer is, somehow,
making a 'good thing' out of his sales. Nothing could be further from the truth, as the steady exodus from farm to city testifies..."

To my thinking, the accent on food and farm products, and the rather unfavorable publicity accorded same by off-the-farm Canadians, stems largely from,
firstly, the fact that about a third of an urban citizen's income is normally spent on "food"; and secondly, the fact that, apparently, it has been nobody's business to remind city folk continually, that when they spend an urban dollar on the food-needs of their families or themselves, between 51c and 52c actually accrue to the primary producers down on the farms!

And while I've my pen in hand,
may I just add that I concur in your recently expressed criticism of the decidedly curious idea invoked by the authorities, in dealing with the recent vote of the hog producers, under which all producers failing to vote, automatically were considered to have voted "No". To me, this assumption is alike unsound and undemocratic. I could use simpler and more forceful terms, but will not. It is sincerely to be hoped that the change you call for is made, and that the farmers will rally to another vote, and leave no doubt in the official mind, on the second effort.

Dr. Crawford Rose Welcomes New Council And Visitors On Taking Office As Mayor

The inaugural meeting of the 1952 town council was held on Monday morning, January 7, at the municipal chambers in the presence of a large gathering of citizens. Following the taking of the oath of office, just after 11 a.m., the newly-inducted Mayor of Aurora, Dr. Crawford Rose, addressed words of welcome to members of council and guests.

Dr. Rose said he was pleased to be back in the position he had formerly held for two years, as Mayor. He was looking forward keenly to the work of the new year, and hoped that all present that morning would enjoy a happy and prosperous year.

He expressed special words of welcome to the four new members of council, and hoped they would have a successful year. The new members are Councilors Davis, King, Murray and Tucker.

Mayor Rose emphasized the collective responsibility for all decisions taken by council and appealed for team work. He hoped that members would courageously take what they considered were the best decisions in the interests of the town as a whole, and wished them every success.

Following Mayor Rose's address, the Rev. H. J. Howey read the 33rd Psalm, which was followed by an invocation for the success of the new council of 1952.

Other Speakers

First to be invited to address the gathering following the above proceedings was Reeve Cooke, who spoke on the limitation of the tax dollar in view of constantly rising prices. He also dealt with the subject of a town manager, who could co-ordinate town work.

The next speaker, Mr. Ross Linton, president of the Board of Trade, expressed his belief that 1952 would be a good year for Aurora. Many organizations, he said, were working for the good of the town, and the Board of Trade would co-operate with the Town Council. They were looking for the wardenship of the county coming to Aurora this year, he said.

Deputy-reeve Murray extended best wishes for 1952, as did Dr. Henderson, chairman of the Public school board.

Councillor Corbett said he would work for the good of the town, as he had done in past years.

J.C.C.'s Good Work

At this point Mayor Rose referred to the excellent work done by the members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in relation to the recent election, in promoting electoral interest by means of posters and other means, and offered his congratulations to president Doug Fisher.

Mr. Fisher said that they would be watching with great interest the work of the new council, and wished it every success.

Following comments by Councillor Jones, who pledged his best services to the citizens during 1952, the Mayor referred to the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murray, remarking that everyone was pleased to have them in their midst. Appropriately, he called upon Councillor Murray as the next speaker.

Councillor Murray said that he appreciated the responsibilities of office more that day than hitherto and that he would do his best for the town.

Mr. McKenzie's Retirement

Mayor Rose drew attention to Mr. H. M. McKenzie's retirement as manager of the Aurora branch of the Imperial Bank after 20 years of service, and said they would all like to hear from him.

Mr. McKenzie said he appreciated very much the tribute from the Mayor, adding that he had greatly enjoyed the years he had spent in Aurora. He introduced his successor, Mr. George Fish, who expressed best wishes for the 1952 council.

Councillor Dale King, the next speaker, said that he would co-operate in every way possible with his fellow councillors for the good of the town.

Former Mayor, Alex Bell, then added his best wishes for the new council.

Councillor Clarence Davis, who spoke next, admitted that he felt rather nervous, but apparently not more so than Dr. Henderson, whose hand he had seen shaking, a humorous ally that brought laughter to the audience. Councillor Davis said he would work for the best interests of the town.

Similar sentiments were expressed by Councillor Ralph Tucker, who said he was very conscious of the responsibilities of the work he had undertaken. He would do his best at all times for the town of Aurora.

Other speakers included Mr. A. C. Welk, manager of the bank of Montreal, town solicitor, Mr. Lorne C. Lee, and the Town Auditor, all of whom extended best wishes for the new council.

After Mayor Rose had explained the absence of a number of citizens who had expressed their intention to be present, the inaugural meeting was adjourned.

Council then approved a motion proposed by Councillor Davis, seconded by Councillor Tucker, that the striking committee consist of the Mayor, Reeve and Deputy-reeve, and that a further council meeting be held at 8 p.m. that evening.

Aurora Telephone Operator Receives Gift From Staff: Many Citizens At Inaugural

In wishing the Aurora staff of the Bell Telephone company a very happy and peaceful year in 1952, we are glad to add that the voices of criticism appear to be fewer than was the case a little time ago. Not that we ever believed that there were any real grounds for criticism of any kind. Our own experience has been that the staff of the company here in Aurora has at all times been punctual, obliging, and most courteous.

Especially most courteous. We don't remember ever making a call that was not prefaced by "Your number, please," with emphasis on the "please." And always followed up by a "thank you." In short, Aurora News Page is a devoted fan of the local staff of telephone operators, and boosts it whenever an opportunity presents itself.

All of which is by way of a prelude to a very happy occasion we have to report, which took place on Friday, Jan. 4.

Recognize Good Service

On that date Mrs. Pauline Griffiths, who left the service of the Bell Telephone Company after being in its employ for about three years, was the recipient of a beautiful silver bread tray from her colleagues, numbering 27.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Florence Hodges, chief operator, who in an impromptu manner spoke of the sincere regret she and all the members of the staff felt on the relinquishment of her position by Mrs. Griffiths.

Mrs. Hodges said that Mrs. Griffiths had been a most efficient operator and that all of them were going to miss her very much. The presentation was a token of their high regard for the recipient, with whom it had at all times been a pleasure to work. All of them wished her every future happiness, and hoped she would find their gift a useful one, bringing back happy memories.

Mrs. Griffiths thanked Mrs. Hodges and the staff for their lovely gift, which was a great surprise to her, and said she had had a happy time in the service of the Bell Telephone Company.

The inaugural meeting of the town council on Monday morning, Jan. 7, was a very pleasant and largely informal affair.

COUNCIL SHOULD RESCIND BY-LAW

One of the worst pieces of legislation of which the 1951 town council was the guilty author was the by-law which altered the time between nominations and elections from two weeks to ten days. There was no need for such a by-law; it serves no useful purpose whatever. On the contrary, it robs the electors of opportunities of getting to know new candidates.

It is also harmful to candidates themselves, whose time for canvassing and advertising is cut down under the by-law to a limit that does not allow them opportunities either of seeing the electors or placing their programs adequately before the electors through newspapers or handbills.

The new council has the power to rescind the by-law passed by those short-sighted and retrogressive members of the old council who engineered it through without discussion, as they did a planning board by-law, which in a few months was rescinded to satisfy a justly aroused public opinion.

Not all the members of the old council—some of whom are, fortunately, back again—were in sympathy with the restrictive election by-law. We suggest that the new council would get off to a good start, by satisfying the majority of the electors of Aurora, in taking the simple steps necessary in rescinding a by-law which is no good either to the electors or candidates.

The work of the new council will be watched closely by the electors. It is composed of a larger number of progressive-minded members than its unregretted predecessor. We are certain that it would establish itself immediately and firmly in the public mind if it took steps without delay in rescinding the by-law which the electors and candidates alike found so objectionable.

AVOIDABLE SUFFERING

We read a heart-rending letter from a correspondent the other day. We are sorry that we cannot publish it since some of its contents exceed the limits of printable material! We are all the more sorry since we were in the closest sympathy with the circumstances of our correspondent's complaints.

It had to do with the "hellish racket" of household radios tuned to a pitch that they could be heard half way down the street. Our correspondent quoted instances which produced "pains in the head, tremors in the spinal cord, general nervous disorders, culminating in strong homicidal tendencies that might break loose at any time."

The radio has its place; but its place is not to destroy the comfort of other people. It is a maddening experience to be compelled to listen against one's will to a radio violently barking out the inanities of crazy "entertainers" with raucous voices and accompanying instruments. For pity's sake, tune that radio down. It can be the devil's plaything!

NO NEED FOR PESSIMISM

A passage in the recent Massey Report has this to say: "If modern nations were marshalled in the order of the importance which they assign to cultural life, Canada would be found near the end of the procession." By "cultural life" the reference is to the reading of books and the better class of literature.

At the Canadian Authors convention it was pointed out that each year Canada imports from the United States nearly $27,000,000 worth of books, newspapers and periodicals, on which the following comment was made by a well-known Canadian author and publicist: "That the Canadian is still able to stand erect and preserve at least a portion of his individuality as a Canadian is somewhat of a miracle."

Canada has an abundance of musical talent and much talent in painting. She has also some exceptional authors although it is a sad reflection that they have to depend largely on the sales of their books abroad for a means of livelihood. We know of no single author, perhaps with the exception of Mazo de la Roche, that means so much to Canadians that they await a new book from his or her pen with intense expectation as readers do in the United Kingdom or in the United States.

In spite of the fact that so many books, newspapers and periodicals are imported from the United States, Canadians have never been in any danger of becoming mentally Americanized. The explanation for this heavy importation of American reading material may be found in its variety. This preference for variety in reading matter is actually a very healthy sign of mental curiosity.

There is being built up a great amount of original Canadian literary material, which in time will represent a truly native literature. There is no reason for the pessimism that has been expressed.

THE COLORS ARE GONE!

A week before publication day we write this. It is to lament that the lovely Christmas trees which have adorned the front windows of many of the homes in Aurora are gone. Their glamorous colors no longer irradiate the wintry streets, giving to our human habitations a glow of kindness and goodwill.

The Christmas cards also are now things of the past, but leave their pleasant memories with us. We welcomed them with joy; we parted with them with sincere regret.

Other seasons come along. We know not where the robins are now. But when the winter snows and ice also have gone, they will return again.

COUNCIL REPORT

First 1952 Council Meeting Covers Many Vital Problems: Mr. Linton Leads Delegation

The first regular meeting of the town council for the year 1952 was held in the municipal chambers on Monday night, January 7, when there were present Mayor, Dr. Crawford Rose, Reeve A. A. Cook, Deputy-reeve James Murray and Councillors Cliff Corbett, Clarence Davis, Victor Jones, Dale King, D. James Murray and Ralph G. Tucker.

Also present, town solicitor Lorne C. Lee, town clerk Ken Moses, and assistant town clerk, Mrs. Joan Diamond. The meeting began punctually on the stroke of 8 o'clock.

The first business before council was the announcement of the personnel of the various committees, after which the mayor tendered some preliminary advice especially directed to new members of council.

Mayor Rose stressed the importance of studying rules of council procedure for the purpose of expediting business, emphasizing that the more work there was done in committee the more efficiently and promptly would the general business of council be carried out. He pointed out that he did like verbal reports, and trusted that these would be written out in detail, preferably with a motion prepared by the chairman of each committee for submission to council.

Mr. Morris appeared on behalf of the District Kennel Dog Show with representations that were approved, especially for the erection of two marquees in the park for the show held in the month of May. The mayor thanked Mr. Morris for his appearance before council.

Mr. Ross Linton appeared for a delegation whose representations concerned several important matters, chief among them being the removal of the provincial police office to Newmarket. Mr. Linton stated that citizens of Aurora were very perturbed over this matter and trusted that it could be cleared up.

Mayor Rose said that contrary to general impressions no written request had ever come before the previous councils for the renting of the whole of the town building for the use of the provincial police. He went on further to state that on December 15, 1951, a special meeting of the old council was held in order to exert every means of retaining the police in Aurora, confirming this by a letter which he read to council. He also paid tribute to Reeve Cook for the efforts he had made to keep the police headquarters in Aurora, in which direction he had worked hard. The mayor stated that it was nobody's fault in Aurora that the change was being made.

Mr. Linton thanked the mayor and said he was fully satisfied, though like many others in town was disappointed at the change being made.

Obnoxious By-Law

Mr. Linton, speaking as president of the Board of Trade, asked permission to call council's attention to the recently-passed By-law No. 1101, which required all future buildings on Yonge street to be placed back 55 feet from the centre of the highway, indicating that this would have a serious effect on immediate building plans.

The town solicitor pointed out that this by-law had been frozen for a period of six months, indicating that its application would involve the town in heavy surveying expenses.

The immediate apparent feeling of council was that the by-law should be rescinded, and on an enquiry by councillor Murray from the solicitor what time was required for this process was informed that such time was in the hands of council itself. Mayor Rose pointed out that council had power to rescind any existing by-law that it saw fit to rescind.

The end of the discussion came with a motion by deputy-reeve Murray, seconded by councillor Murray, that a by-law be prepared for the rescinding of the obnoxious existing building by-law to be ready for the next meeting of council.

Among other unfinished business was the zoning by-law, copies of which should be prepared for a reading by the new members, suggested Deputy-reeve Murray.

"I've already read it and don't think much of it. Nobody can understand it," commented Councillor Murray. It was agreed, however, that copies be prepared for other members to study.

Deputy-reeve Murray said that it might be a good idea if a lot of unfinished business were brought up that was buried in the council files, which drew an observation from the mayor to the effect that it depended on how far they were going back. It might prove a big job. Council took no action on the deputy-reeve's suggestion.

The new chairman of by-laws, Councillor Dale King, introduced several by-laws, included among them being one authorizing the borrowing of $60,000 to meet current council expenses pending collection of revenue.

Reeve A. A. Cook was unanimously reappointed member of the Board of York County Health Unit for the year 1952.

Mr. Sidney Davies was re-appointed member of the Library Board, and Mr. E. J. Eveleigh was re-appointed trustee of the Aurora District High School.

In reply to a letter from Chairman Don Glass of the recreation commission, in which it was indicated that two members of council were now required to serve on the commission, council appointed Councillors Corbett and Murray to fill these positions.

Councillor Jones brought up the matter of purchases being made by town employees without authorizing vouchers, maintaining that the system should be reviewed and amended. He contended that no purchases should be made without vouchers.

Councillor Tucker said it surprised him to hear that no voucher system was in existence and supported the observations of Councillor Jones. It was agreed that Reeve Cook and Councillor Tucker bring to council some recommendations on the matter.

Councillor Davis raised the matter of free skating for the children, observing that it was little use buying skates any more since there was nowhere for them to go. The matter is to be further investigated.

Reeve Cook presented to council a clear outline of the functions of a personnel committee, and of the need of someone acting in the capacity of a town manager who would co-ordinate the various departmental duties of town work.

In reply to a question by Councillor Murray on whom the town employees depended for instruction, the reeve replied that that was the main point of his argument that the work should be handled by someone having the necessary authority to issue orders.

DORCAS MEETING
A Dorcas meeting of the Evening branch of the W. A. St. Paul's Anglican church, Newmarket, was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Hunter on Monday, Jan. 7. Mrs. John Brodie was co-hostess. Members exchanged gifts during the social hour following the business session. Plans for the Dorcas work for the year were made. The meeting closed with prayers. Mrs. Bert Budd presided. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

CROSSLEY-CAMPBELL
A Christmas scene of evergreen boughs with clusters of poinsettias and a decorated tree formed the setting in King United church on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 29, for the marriage of Shirley Eileen Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Campbell, to Allan Oliver Crossley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Crossley. Rev. M. R. Jenkinson performed the ceremony and Mrs. Ewart Patton played the organ. The soloist was Mr. Everett Wilkshire, who sang "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given away by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of white, chintilly lace over blue satin, designed with short bluish neck jacket, buttoned front, pointed sleeves, the full flowing skirt falling from the fitted bodice. Her full length illusion veil fell from a matching head-dress, and she carried a cascade of white mums and carnations.

Her sisters were her attendants, Mrs. Raymond Love as matron of honor in maroon velvet with small matching cap hat with green feather, and Clara Campbell was bridesmaid, wearing hunter's green velvet and matching hat. They carried nosegays of bronze mums with yellow and bronze ribbon.

Danny Crossley was his brother's groomsmen and the ushers were Raymond Love, the bride's brother-in-law, and Donald Busby, cousin of the groom.

For the reception held in the church rooms, the bride's mother received in gun-metal gray crepe with lace yoke and dove gray accessories. A corsage of red roses completed her costume. The groom's mother chose navy blue crepe and matching accessories with corsage of pink roses. A wedding dinner was served by the ladies of the church auxiliary, with the long tables decorated in silver, red and evergreens.

Afterward the bridal party and guests were entertained at "The Barn", the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Weiss, the hosts. The home was trimmed with silver Christmas trees. Square and round dancing was enjoyed in the spacious living room. Buffet lunch was served.

For travelling, the bride wore a peacock blue wool dress, navy accessories and gray wool coat, with corsage of bronze mums. The couple left for Royal Oak Lodge at Huntsville. The couple will live in their new home on the Crossley farm.

Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Margaret Jaffery and Miss Dora Butt, Toronto, who were classmates of the bride when she graduated from the nursing school of the Women's College Hospital, Toronto, in 1950. Until her marriage, Mrs. Allan Crossley was on the staff of that hospital. Miss Marion Crossley, Reg. Nurse, came from Wawa, north of Sault Ste. Marie, for her brother's wedding. Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Crossley of Langstaff, uncle of the groom, were

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

Ginger, the office cat, has made a point when in his column last week he said it is really a man's world. Listing some resolutions for staff members of the Era and Express as well as for others in the community in his weekly report, "Catnips By Ginger", he directed the following our way: "Caroline Ion, women's editor: Tell them that it's really a Man's World. Why humor them?"

Why humor them, indeed. Ginger, old boy, haven't you ever heard that one about "The hand that rocks the cradle...?" Who but the women control the money in the country? Any government statistician (and it's invariably a man) will tell you that women direct the spending of about four-fifths of all the family incomes.

Advertisers are aware of this and direct their publicity campaigns to attract the feminine eye. About the only exception to this is found in the strictly male publication and even a cursory glance through one of these shows that the scope of merchandise advertised is rather limited. There will be men's wearing apparel, liquor, cigarettes, tobacco, liquor, cigarettes, liquor.

Recently in Toronto a course was given dealing with investments, the stock market and similar topics. It was held for women. Because, as insurance companies point out, most beneficiaries of their policies are women. They are the ones who inherit the life savings of their hard-working spouses. And consequently it is by them that the question of investing in mortgages or gold stocks is raised.

It has been said that when you educate a man you educate an individual, but when you educate a woman, it's a family that is educated. It is the woman who sets the moral and ethical tone of the home. It is she who is with the children almost constantly during their formative years before school age.

The great bulk of charity and church work in any community is done by the women. The vast majority of our educators are women in the teaching profession. Unfortunately, it is a small percentage of our population that attends university and so most school days are spent with women as the instructors.

But for all these arguments, Ginger, you know and I know that the world, the vast conglomeration made up of the business life of the nations, the political sphere, national and international, is controlled by and for the men. Perhaps if women had more say in the economic and governmental life of the nations the world would not be in its present chaotic state. Yes, as it is today, we women will admit that "It's really a man's world."

But, even that acknowledgment will not persuade us to change the name of this column. For being true to what all males feel is a correct analysis of feminine ways, we shall continue this contradictory course. It's only the women who are forgiven for playing a hunch when a man would be denounced as a lame-brain. As the man at our house said, "Sure, it's a man's world, but it's the women who make it interesting."

Mrs. R. J. Rogers Returned As Auxiliary President

Mrs. R. J. Rogers was re-elected president of the York County Hospital Women's auxiliary at the annual meeting in the Agricultural Board rooms on Tuesday, Jan. 8. Mrs. Lyman Rose conducted the election of officers.

A permanent constitution was adopted. Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey, chairman of the committee which had revised the former constitution, presented it to the meeting.

It was decided to extend the scope of the organization to include territories outside Newmarket. For this purpose the district was divided into five zones, each to have one vote in matters of policy. One representative from each zone was chosen to sit on the executive. Each representative is to be permitted to send an alternate of her own choosing to those meetings she is unable to attend herself.

Interesting reports were presented by officers and convenors on the year's activities. These were very encouraging. Mrs. William Bosworth presented a slate of officers as chairman of the nominating committee.

Those elected to office include: past pres., Mrs. Lyman Rose; pres., Mrs. R. J. Rogers; first vice pres., Mrs. W. O. Noble; second vice pres., Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards; treas., Miss L. Cleland; corr. sec., Mrs. J. O. Little; rec. sec., Mrs. Mervyn Peever; public relations officers, Mrs. Howard Lane, Mrs. Elton Armstrong; press sec., Mrs. Arleigh Armstrong.

Convenors, ways and means, Mrs. M. B. Seldon; purchasing, Mrs. W. O. Noble; membership, Mrs. W. P. Fish; refreshment, Mrs. John Dales; entertainment and program, Mrs. J. W. Bowman; advisory committee representative, Mrs. William Bosworth. Zone representatives, Aurora, Mrs. Archie Cousins; King township, Mrs. Ivan Specht; Bradford, Mrs. Charles Evans; Sutton, Mrs. Michael Gillan; Sharon-Keswick-Mount Albert, Mrs. H. J. Kurtz.

"TRULY YOURS"

Every prescription your pharmacist fills for you is as personalized as your finger print. Each is written to correct certain conditions your physician recognizes. He names specific drugs, in correct combination and dosage.

The prescription is truly yours. When your pharmacist compounds it he gives you what your physician has decided to be the remedial agent best suited to your case.

People sometimes take a prescription prepared for someone else because they feel they have the same condition. This practice is dangerous. Symptoms which appear similar to the layman can indicate widely differing diseases requiring entirely different treatment; dosages effective for you can be harmful or inadequate for another.

Always remember that the prescription your pharmacist carefully compounds for you is written for you and for no other person on earth.—Reprinted from a copyrighted advertisement published by Parke, Davis & Company.

Seek out your physician in time of trouble. Call on him at the first sign of illness. Be advantaged by his experience. Have confidence in his counsel. He will do his utmost to guide you toward the Highway of Health.

Should he give you a prescription, may we have the privilege of compounding it?

Like a good many filberts, street corner hot-stovers and surmises, we took a re-hash corner on our trusty O.H.A. manual after "the affair Bush" and the trail led down to rule 80. Now there, friends, is a tricky bit of legislation.

It reads: "If a team is with-drawn or being on the ice fails to start play within two minutes when ordered to do so, the manager, coach or official of the club which is responsible for any of these actions will be automatically suspended for one year from date of the infraction without the right to appeal."

If you're in the mood for a puzzler here's one and the O.H.A. are welcome to it. Don. Jeffreys, Shipbuilders' bench manager, had been outed earlier. Technically, if you care to get technical; Eddie Bush was out of the game when he drew the match misconduct. Being out, how could he nominate a man to serve his sin bit time?

The O.H.A., incidentally, could clean up financially by renting the town hall for the hearing. Invite all the participants and charge the customers 25c a head. Oh think nothing of it—you're welcome.

Your paragrapher doesn't hold with these forethoughted games. Give us the full treatment, say I, and O.H.A. should back their officials when it comes to the show-down. Builders intimidated they'd been jobbed. Penalty statistics didn't prove it. They had five minors, Spits three.

Super-showman Bush—bark is worse than his bite, or is it—did appear to have disposed of all his Christmas good-will. And the Spits of 6-2 didn't tend to improve his disposition. Sin bin key-keeper and our side-kick clock watcher, Larry Sheffe, drew his ire—was sold a bill of goods not to make any arguments to visit Collingwood for a spell.

THE Calvert SPORTS COLUMN

by Elmer Ferguson

I'm a little late in reporting this, but it happened New Year's eve. Dozing in front of the fireplace over a good, but dull, book, your agent was startled to see two extraordinary figures emerging from the wood-smoke.

"Something I ate, no doubt", I offered as an excuse to soothe a slightly-agitated mind. "Just couldn't be no such people."

For one was a very decrepit old gent, who looked to be on his last legs, the other a very young little fellow, and they were chatting away.

"Well, things were pretty fine while they lasted", said the Old Gent, who turned out to be 1951, preparing for his mid-night departure. "I probably broke all records in my 12 months on earth."

"You broke a lot of people with high prices, if that's what you mean" said the little fellow. "Everything was higher than a speculator's idea of a Grey Cup ticket's value."

For a mere child, this little lad seemed to be pretty well informed on sports topics. "I'm 1952" he announced "and I know my stuff" he added, brisily.

"If you're so smart" said the shinky old gentleman, who was plainly on his last legs, "what are you going to do about things in your span on earth? You have a lot of Auegan stables to clean up."

"Why all the emphasis on the cess-pools?" asked the moppet. "After all, if you buy a barrel of apples and find that a couple are rotten, that's to be expected. Everybody, including the boys in the writing business, seems anxious to stress the misdeeds, which are comparatively few, and overlook a lot of the good, clean decent sport, the real amateurism, the play-for-fun, which is the backbone of sport, really."

"What do you see for the future?" enquired the Old Boy, anxiously. "And hurry up. I got a date with a Man With a Seythe."

"There's a few things to which I'd like to devote my time" said the youngster.

"Speaking of time, I'd like to see overtime come back into hockey" quavered the Old Boy. "I think it would add a thrill to the game, and it would still the clamour of a lot of customers, who after all, are entitled to what they want. We might get away from a lot of the games, that dot my team."

"What's the matter with the games?" moppet enquired said Kid 1952. "Hockey is presented as a 60-minute game. A boxing match is usually listed for 10 rounds. A soccer game is 90 minutes. A football game is an hour. So is a basketball match. There's no overtime in these, so why pick on hockey? With 70 games in the big league, there's hockey enough. I got a lot of important things to attend to. I got to keep an eye on my hockey player Elmer Lach. At the rate he's going when he'll be on the shelf, I'll have to hand him over to 1953. I got to get ready to hear a growing clamour to change the record of 324 goals, in my span on this round old earth. I got to play-off so the west too can get a look at this event. Play-off two games, one in each of the cities represented in my idea."

"You can bet on the fact that there's a new heavyweight boxing champion" said Joe Walcott is a nice old poppy-guy, but adds no new to the game. That Rocky Marciano would be a good bet to win. It looks like Detroit Wings and Toronto Leafs in the Stanley Cup final. McGill will finally win the Intercollegiate small title. The number of heavyweight wrestling champions will be cut to six. Losing hockey teams will blame television, the games, and the weather for shrink-ing gate-receipts. The league baseball attendance will decrease again. The U.S. and Russia will find an excuse to withdraw its athletes, and claim that the Olympics were first staged in Russia, anyway, and Stalin will denounce the Games as capitalistic exploitation of the athletes. New York Giants will win the National League. Facing customers will wind up broke."

Notable Citizen Passes

To live to the great age of 92 years is in itself a great achievement, but when it is accompanied by the love and admiration of relatives and a great number of friends the accomplishment is always noteworthy. All of which can be said for Mary Elizabeth Doan, who was born in 1859, at Oakwood in Maripossi township, and died peacefully at her home at Headford on December 28. The wife of Charles Brodie, she was predeceased by her husband 30 years ago.

Mrs. Brodie came with her parents to the third concession of King township when she was eight years old and went to school at Glenville. No less than 52 years of her long life were spent in Markham township, where in later years she was affectionately known as "Grandma Brodie." She was possibly the oldest member of that community.

Her motto was: "Not how long we live, but how well we live." Mrs. Brodie was a striking personality of great dignity who will be remembered for her constant cheerfulness. Up to the last she was interested in everybody and in everything and was always busy. She was a great reader and a constant subscriber to the Era and Express.

Mrs. Brodie is survived by a son, Norman Brodie of Headford, and a daughter, Harriet, wife of George Quantz of Yonge street, Aurora. Surviving also are four grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

HASHMAN AWARD

Ticket For Bobby

Who's for the Hashman award this week? Tough proposition, let me tell you. Should be giving it to Eddie Bush. His antics last Thursday about put the clincher on a hockey revival locally. Next time Collingwood comes a visiting fans will break down the doors. But we can't cite Mr. Bush, except possibly for contempt of court so we'll have to look deeper for our winner.

Kiddie that struck us as the man or boy of the week was young Bobbie Forhan. Bob, our gift to Andy Closs' Aurora Bears, fired two very important goals for the Bears as they racked up their sixth straight home win Friday. Nothing unusual about Bob getting two goals you may say — but they were fancy dan counters, and his general play and scoring habits have Aurora fans eyes popping. So on the basis of general proficiency, improved play and ever-ready scoring, we're naming Bob Forhan for this week's Hashman award and Roxy Theatre pass recipient.

Bears Win Sixth At Home

Aurora Bears, wearing their new O.H.A. C rating with dignity and aplomb, rocketed through to their sixth straight home win Friday taking Hespeler Shamrocks to the cleaners 7-4. The Bears, who certainly have hustle aplenty around the Aurora igloo, thereby solidified their perch atop the group standing with six wins, two losses and a tie.

It was a grueler in many ways. Early in the first period, Bobbs Cook was injured and Coach Charlie Rowntree was forced to shift his attacking corps considerably but it didn't hurt the Bears scoring punch to any extent. Although the Shamrocks salted the first away at 8:47 on a goal by Jack Beattie, it was the eBears coming out of the first period protecting a 3-2 edge. That lead was produced by Messrs. Elmo Phillips, Grant Edwards and Don Munshaw.

Bob Forhan, chiseled out of a couple of first period goals by net-minder Roy Prouge, punched in two second period goals. Aurora put away two more in the final period to construct their 7-4 win. Joe Gasko fired a Grant Edwards pass into the Hespeler cage and Grant "Batter" Winters cashed a 40-footer, at 18:08 to close the scoring.

Bear Facts: Ron Starkey took over the shot-blocking duties for the ill-listed Joe Burke. Starkie was called on to make 19 stops. Bears dished up 35 shots.

Referee Randy Anderson kept the sin-bin operators in business with 18 minor sentences, 11 to Aurora. Penalties played a big part in early counting. Aurora struck for two with a man advantage, Hespeler one. Penalty killing of Bob Forhan and Keith Collings with defence aid from Walt Fines and Elmo Phillips was a treat to behold. Paid attendance hit a new high. It was 579.

THIRD ROAD LOSS

The Bears lost their third straight road game Monday via the shut-out route as Hespeler, victimized in Aurora igloo Friday, resurged to whomp the Bears 4-0. Let it be said the Closs - Rowntree - Wilson - Scott combines were without sick-listed net-minder Joe Burke, winger Stew Wilson and ankle-injured Bobbs Cook. Andy Closs took along Harold "Sonny" Stephenson and Don Morning to fill up front gaps and Ron Starkey re-traced his strides to guard the rigging.

This road loss business must halt says the Bears inner circle. The bee was on the Bears after Monday's contest—early to bed—more zip on the road—or there'll be some changes.

Juveniles On The Way

Two games—two wins. That's the early season story on our juvenile O.M.H.A. entry. They started away Friday with an "on the road" win 3-2 over Little Britain. Tuesday playing before the home populace, our Imperials sent the fans home happy by latching on to a 5-4 win.

It wasn't only the victory thoughts that made the fans happy; it was the manner in which the victory was achieved. Here's the Tuesday picture. Little Britain snapped up a 3-0 first period lead. The teams went at it hot and heavy through a scoreless second period duel. Invaders edge stood up until half way through the third. Then the Imperials came alive. They staged as fine a comeback as you'll see around the gardens. Gerald Chapman, a going concern, struck for the first Newmarket counter at 11:10. Then in turn pay-dirt hitters were stroked in by Don Mickey Barker, Freeman West, Grant Morton and Don Morning.

Set Up Jr. Lake Loop

Hockey fans Queensville way can look forward to some tidy hockey battles. Plans for a four-team junior Lake Simcoe Hockey League are well advanced. Three teams, Queensville, Mount Albert and Vandonr, are definite starters. Holland Landing will likely round out the four-team circuit.

It is planned to play double-header attractions on Thursday nights in the Queensville arena. First double-header in the league is expected to get underway to-night at 7.30 p.m. League ruling bars any player over 20 from participating.

Further information on the schedule and play-off arrangements will be forthcoming after Thursday's games, reports Murray Edgar, king-pin in getting the loop organized. In an exhibition game last Thursday, Queensville downed Mount Albert 8-5.

Out-Of-Towners On Top

Newmarket and District Hockey teams went back to work on Monday in Stan. Smith's ice igloo. Out of towners spilled the town teams. Tally sheets read: Vandonr 5, Office Specialty 4; Mount Albert 8, Town Regents 5.

The Office Specialty league-lead was nibbled to four points. Mounties take over second slot, and Towner and Vandonr Jets locked in a third place tie. There were ten penalties over the two-game stretch but it was no tea party. Going was rugged and the teams set a gruelling pace.

Vandonr's big line, Russ Forfar, Archie Forfar and Bun Sellers, counted four goals. It was Russ Forfar for two and an assist; Archie Forfar for one and two assists. Bun Sellers hit for the game winner. Bill Kingston, assisted by Bob Staley, collected other Jets scoring point.

Goal-getters for the surprised Craddock - Neufeld Specialties were Barney Pearson for two, Jack Staley and Bruce "Shifty" Townsley one each. Stan. Gibbons came into his own with three assistance marks.

Harvesting three unanswered goals in the second period, Murray Edgar's Mount Albert tribe hacked out an 8-5 win over the Town Regents. Towner led 3-2 at the end of round one but faded badly in the second. It was a Laverne "Dick" Fifth night from a Regents angle. Firthy shot in three goals, one unassisted, and he accepted help from Harold Gwyn and Jack Smith on the others. Ivan Gibson contracted for the other two Town scoring credits; Cliff Gunn and Bobbie Smith drew assistance marks.

Doug. Ross and Bill Brett spearheaded the Mounties attack on Bill Ingram's town citadel with two goals apiece. Ross Draper, Elmo Paisley and Don Marchant snipped in singletons and Dave Couch, the league's leading scorer, collected a goal and three assists for a busy night's work. Bob Dixon came up with another strong defensive show and Bill Mulholland chiselled the Town shot-makers out of several sure goals.

Two Shut Outs In Aurora

It was shut-out morning Saturday in the Aurora pee-wee Allen Cup hunt. Scores: Detroit 7, Canadiens 0; Chicago 2, Leafs 0. Sparked by Mike Patrick's sizzling three-goal, one-assist effort, and two each fired from the sticks of Keith Brown and Larry Sutton, the Redwings had too much on the ball for the last place Canadiens.

Elgin Evans and Keith Brown came into their own in the assist column with two apiece. Dave Faulkner and Larry Gardner cut in on the Redwings heavy scoring with single assistance credits. Leroy Ellis chalked up a shut-out in the Detroit cage.

In game two Larry Woods and Bill Calhoun shot in the all-important Black Hawk tallies. Jack Murby drew an assist on Woods' tally and Billy Duckenfield took the bows for the set-up pass on Calhoun's effort. Bill Case, son of Charlie Case, chip off the old block, came up with a nifty effort to gain a shut-out in the Hawks cage.

Aurora Ladies Lose

Aurora Ladies, sporting jaunty new hockey outfits, spent Tuesday evening admiring the new material while East York's "Gord's Snack Bar" gals smothered them 6-0. The Aurora gals battled on fairly even terms—particularly in the final round—but couldn't do that most necessary chore—put the puck in the net.

Joy Collitt and Lil. Davidson shot in two each, Becky Mackin and Jacky Ralph one each to build the Snack Bars total. The Aurora sweaters were a gift from Doug. Harrison, Aurora dairyman. The gals raised the necessary mocha for the hockey pants via the raffle route. Raffle winners were Ross Groom, Toronto; Matt Wallace, Aurora; Charlie Mashinter, Maple, and Fred Bath, King.

Hoopla Shows Promise

Tracy Barrager, king-pin in Aurora's attempt to get a basketball hoop in operation, advises: "We had a very good turnout Saturday in the Aurora high school gym."

"Talent is available for a cracker-jack hoop squad. Next step—we're hoping to get an exhibition game with Frank Gregoire's Aurora high school senior hoopers in the near future."

Anyone interested in playing basketball can contact Tracy Barrager or Harold Stephenson for information.

Keswick Twice Beaten

Bad news from the Keswick Rural tri-county hockey front. The Comets were humbled twice over the past week. Journeying to Cambray on bath night, the Comets were dropped by the home forces 9-3. Chubby Ken. Davie clicked for two goals and Jack Cole for one in the Keswick cause.

Tuesday, Keswick played host to Haliburton Huskies and allowed the Huskies a 6-2 win. Keswick flourished in the first period. The Huskies ran in three goals and never looked back. Ivan Ray potted Keswick's first midway through the second and Sam Latimer punched home a third period tally.

Bush Suspended

The O.H.A. announced Friday Eddie Bush had been suspended and his case would be dealt with at the first O.H.A. subcommittee meeting. A call to Bill Handley, O.H.A. business manager Tuesday, brought this information to light. The O.H.A. sub-committee isn't expected to meet until Friday, Jan. 18.

Mr. Handley reported that he hadn't been in touch with Frank Buckland, who handed down the suspension, nor had he had time to check Referee Leon Smith's report of the game and therefore wasn't in a position to give any idea what the final outcome of the suspension might be.

Meanwhile, the Spits go into Collingwood Saturday for a tilt with the Shipbuilders. At least one bus load of fans will make the journey. If interested in making the trip, call 777, Newmarket Taxi.

Roches Win First

Liniment sales up—poppas and hubbies down but not out. That's shorthand for the Keswick Married Men's hockey league opener last Friday. Don't try to tell 'em up around Roche's Point 13 is unlucky. They'll chuckle. Roche's "three-quarters dead crocks", showing surprising vim and vigor, shot in 13 goals. Jersey's "six oldsters" got three.

Goal-scorers are on the secret list—nobody wants to lose any players to the N.H.L. scouts—but one young nipper claims 10. Surprising turn-out—$35 gate. It's only the beginning, folks. They go again tomorrow night—bigger doings than ever.

It's Keswick "rusty-jointed six" vs Roche's. Positively no one carrying matches will be allowed in. All players must grow, beg, borrow or steal a set of whiskers. County's two oldest hockey players, 77 and 73 respectively, will take the opening face-off. Better be there early.

Group 'Berg Minors

Schomberg juveniles have been grouped with Bolton, Bradford, Alliston and Tottenham, reports Coach Bill Breedon. Schomberg and Bolton have a D rating. Bradford, Alliston and Tottenham are C's.

The league will swing into scheduled action this week, Schomberg vs Bolton. Schomberg's first home game will be played at Bolton Friday. Schomberg will then move over to Bolton ice for the balance of their scheduled home games.

The Berger juveniles will tackle Bradford in a Monday game on Beeton ice. In the bantam division Schomberg have been grouped with Nobleton, Bolton and Woodbridge. As yet the group opener and league schedule hasn't been fully drawn up. This important phase will be attended to this week.

HOTELMEN GET HELP

With an eye to balancing the teams in the Aurora Town League and getting more customers interested in paying a Tuesday weekly visit to the Aurora arena, the Aurora Town League moguls passed on help to the floundering Hotelmen last week. They will be allowed to use one O.H.A. player on their roster. The Hotelmen immediately went out and signed Bill McGhee, a member of the Newmarket Spitfires, to put a little pep in their back-wall blocking duties.
